PROJECT FEATURES

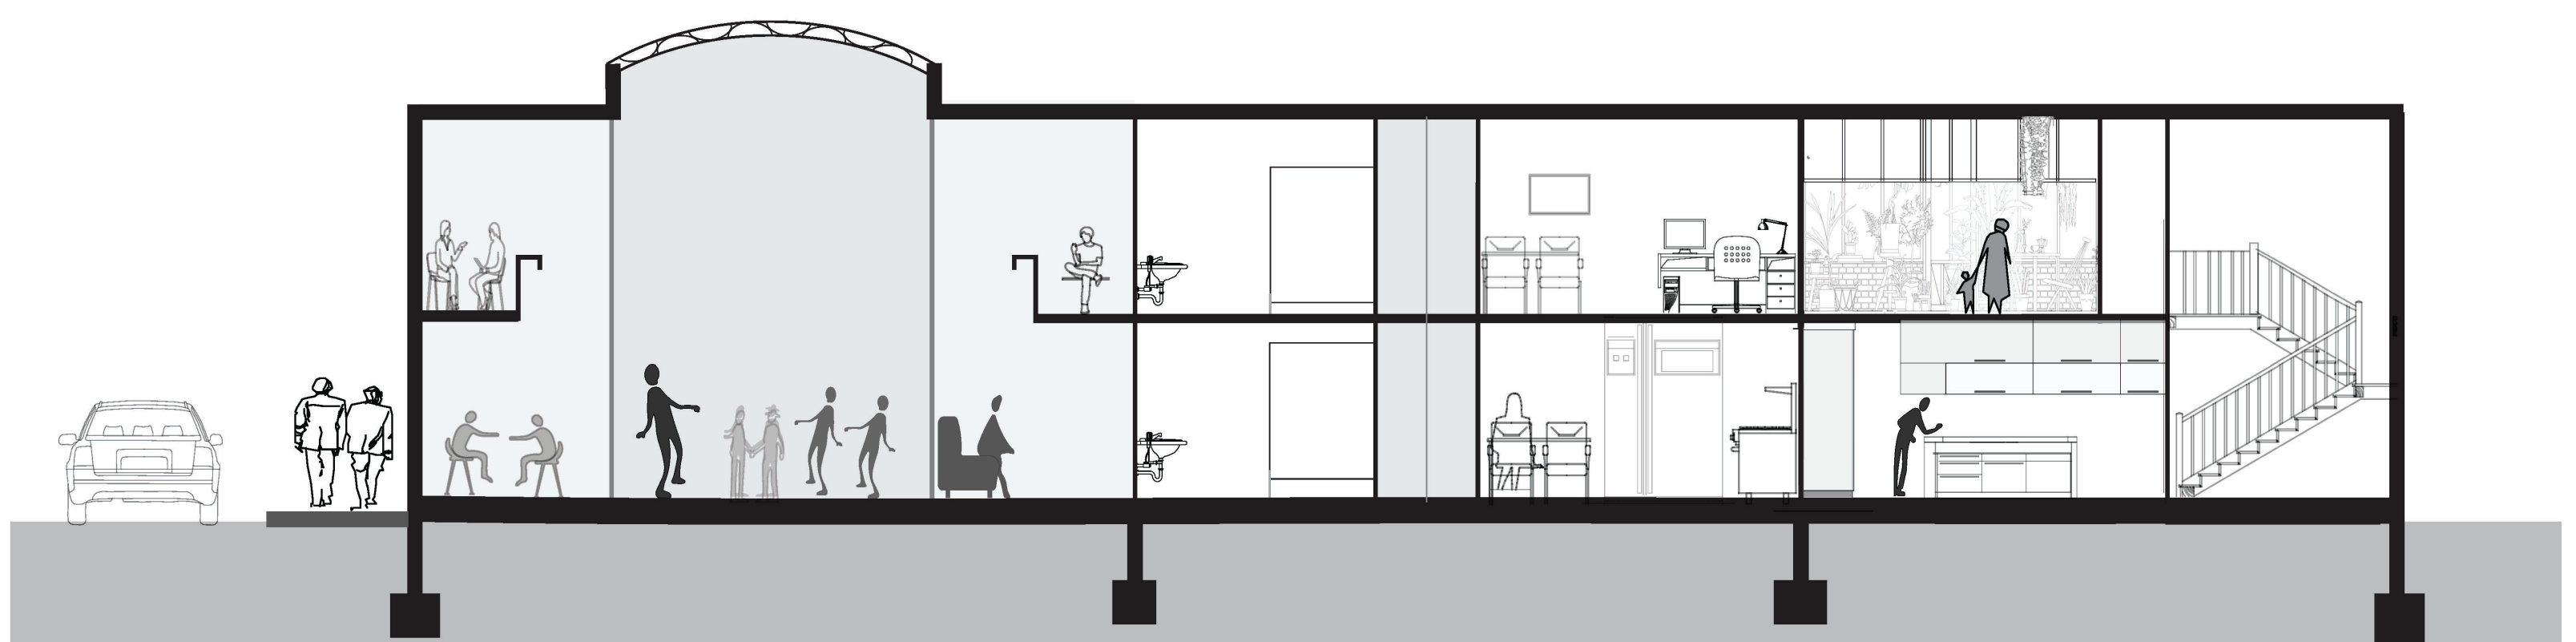

The first year program offers a variety of work experiences for participants, to allow them to discover their interests and skills, and identify a particular area of focus in the next two years. The second year of the program focuses on developing skills in their chosen work in preparation for their chosen career. It is anticipated that in the third year the students will have a paid work experience and learn to handle an income including paying rent to the ELC, and managing their money. Spaces are provided for instruction, presentation, discussion and practice. Learning and work opportunities at the ELC include home maintenance, gardening, culinary skills and technology. Other learning and work opportunities are provided outside the ELC.
